Time for all hands on deck

In many ways, it is disappointing that only two senior teams and one junior team are still playing this week.

But in another, particularly for “this club = our club”, it is a bonus.

It means there will be plenty of people around to help out as Queens Park plays host to senior finals at both Stinton & Shaw ovals.

Congratulations to the two teams in the finals – Battler’s Thirds and Jason Thiele’s Under 13’s.

In between helping out Morgo and co at Queens Park, make sure you pop along and support those two teams.

You might just be privy to seeing a little bit of Battler magic like the moment on Saturday when he moved Frankie from slip to point and next ball, guess where the catch was taken?

And speaking of Battler, whenever you reckon you are doing it tough, have a read of his grandfather’s story on page 3 and the club website – thankfully these days our away venues are much closer joints like Gallipolli, or Pozieres.

Our generations are bloody lucky....!!

Having said that, overall, Saturday produced a melancholy end to the season.

There was a noble batting performance in the First XI without the big innings needed for an unlikely win.

The Second XI got that lesson that we all learn sooner or later – cricket is a demanding mistress, wants everything ... promises nothing in return. And sometimes that’s what you get, nothing. But you go back because when she does give you something, it’s always special.

The Third XI pushed hard for an outright, but you know North Geelong are never rolled that easily twice.

The Fourth’s had a moment or two when the Lewis brothers were going, but fell short at the end. Week one saw Royce (jnr) take a second bag of three along with Windt (jnr) keeping for the whole day of juniors & seniors.

It’s so wonderful to see all the young blokes in their blue junior shirts playing in the Fourths.

And in the Fifth XI, another junior made an excellent senior cricket debut – wicket first ball, and what a wicket too.

C. Hocking bowled Jye Witham.

And speaking of young, promising talents, we also said – in some style too – good bye to our English import who has been a ray of sunshine across the season that had as much grey as it did two colours of blue.

All that protein courtesy of the Twaddle household has seen D.W. Lawrence grow physically, but he also metamorphosed from boy to young man while in our company. Again special thanks to Karen & Philip Twaddle for their hospitality and support and now their house can resume normality.

Dan leaves us with universal endorsement of the words he came with from his English teams – this boy can play.

As with Jaik Mickleburgh, who continues to have a fine first-class career, it won’t be long after his return from NCCC that Daniel is playing with an Essex first XI.

Word is he is a real chance to play for the county against the touring Australians in July.

Good luck to Battler’s Boys, good luck to Jason Thiele’s young fellas against Barwon Heads at 8:30 Sat/Sun.

Get along to support both matches @ Grovedale Secondary College, and get down to QP to do your bit to make sure that the status we have built as a great place in Geelong to play finals is not just lived up to, but taking to even greater heights.

Let’s all make this a month of March to remember.

The legend of John Williams – the original Battler

Grandfather of Russell Mitchell

John Williams was 29 when he signed up to fight “Johnny Turk”, just another boy from the Victorian bush ready to go and do his duty for King and country.

John was living on a farm in Kerang in Victoria when on October 16th he joined the Australian Imperial Forces, the fabled AIF on the badges pinned to the slouch hats that distinguished the Diggers from their fellow Allies.

“I’m not sure why I am joining,” he wrote at the time.

“It’s a long way to go to Turkey to serve one’s country but all my mates are going and so is my younger brother so I better go and look after him I suppose. Mum’s upset and crying but I reassure her I can look after myself and I’m a bloody good shot. Shooting rabbits all day is a much harder than Turks I tell her and it will be over in a few months and I will be back on the farm in no time.”

A local church was being used as the recruitment post.

“I arrive at the church with my brother Albert and we both signed up there and then. We both ended up in the 5TH Battalion and I am given the service number 1829.

“The next few months we are sent to training. Its hard work but I enjoy it and the hand to hand combat we are trained in is something I enjoy as I’m bigger than most of the lads being 6ft 2. We are taught how to use the bayonet, something we all hope we don’t have to use. The officers tell us the Turks will probably flee once we open up on them from the sea and spirits are high.”

The Williams brothers, along with the rest of the 5th Battalion, set sail for the Turkish coast in March 1915.

“Some ships have already left before us and they plan to get there at the end of April,” John wrote in his diary. “Hopefully they leave us some action as training for three months has left us ready for the fight.”
