

TWO BLUE TRIBUNE

The official organ of the Newtown and Chilwell Cricket Club since 1973.

January 26, 2012 Vol.39 No.7 www.two-blues.com.au

A SWells sort of a guy!

It says a lot about our club that when we go out into the market place seeking people of great achievement to come to speak at events like Centenary dinners or President's functions, we need to look no further than to our own.

Last year at the Centenary Dinner, Greg Wells gave his unforgettable "This Club, Our Club" speech, to be followed by one of the world's best known cricket administrators, formally known as R.F. Merriman A.M., Mayor of the Borough of Queenscliffe, but to most of us as "Brown Arms."

This year our President made the call to another who has made a telling contribution to this chosen field – recruiting in the AFL: Stephen Wells.

Thanks to the place mats that Barnso had specially designed for the President's Dinner, Stephen's achievements were on display to all. Like his brother, he is not only one of Newtown's finest, but one of the best cricketers ever to come to Geelong.

Asked why he had not pushed himself to find out how good he was at District level, Stephen replied with a wry smile that he was probably more interested in pushing himself in football.

There were plenty interested in what he had to say about football as he unraveled the complexities of picking yarn talent, often with a prescience that escaped his peers at other football club.

Asked who he would regard as his favourite recruit over the years, he rattled off a list so long that you soon realised he was being his usual diplomatic self.

Or perhaps he knew outside ears were listening.

Inadvertently the outside PA had been left on. Clear across the valley, Neville Crane's daughter had heard the President's 'state of the nation' address as if he was standing next to her.

Nothin' like spreading the message, eh Nev.

Additionally, Neville's daughter would have heard read out the scores from East Belmont.

Yeah, we lost the six grades underneath, and in some cases lost spectacularly, and that has to hurt, particularly Morgo, who does such a Trojan job off the field that he deserves better luck on it. What a servant of our club this bloke is, re-visiting roles he first undertook as a teenager and about 100 new one that didn't exist back then.

Anyway, the news filtering through from East Belmont throughout the day offered plenty of hope for the upset the captain had predicted in the paper the day before. Simply, the firsts, the young and the not so young, fielded like demons and bowled one side of the wicket. It's amazing how often it works.

Beating a great club like East Belmont in the firsts is a significant milestone on the road to recovery.

There were other milestones, too.

The President played his 400th game for the club, called to arms just half an hour before play, and almost won the game for the Sixths.

And in that game Adam O'Connor took his 149th and 150th wicket with successive balls of such lethal intent and delivery that D.G. Bradman wouldn't have laid willow on leather.

And we would have celebrated like Dervishes if Adam hadn't told us the wickets were numbers 148 and 149. Oh well!

As we plan ahead, be aware that Leopold were watching very closely the events of last weekend, particularly in the Firsts.

They know not to take us lightly, as others might have done.

The next big social occasion is February 4th – the TRIVIA NIGHT.

Make sure we have reasons to celebrate when we all congregate at the club rooms again for that.

MAKE SURE YOU ARE THERE. Greg Hansen has donated his time to help our club.

Say thanks by helping make up a table with your mates, your family, your partners.

Our cricket club needs your help

As you will already know, we are the most successful cricket club in the history of the Geelong Cricket Association. However throughout our 101 years it has been about a lot more than winning games of cricket. It has also been about helping young people to get the best out of themselves both on and off the field.

I have been involved in the club for five decades, and I have witnessed many young people start with our club as juniors, work their way to the seniors, along the way growing into highly regarded members of our community.

My committee members and I get a thrill out of seeing this happen year after year. We want to see this great work continue for another 101 years. This is where you can help us.

Before I outline just what help is needed, there are some issues and challenges ahead that the committee thought I should make you aware of.

(i) Coaching – Juniors

Our Junior Co-Ordinator Tony Jefferies has been able to utilise a mixture of parents and players to assist in the training, coaching, and administrating of your son's team. Tony has also ensured that an opportunity is being given to some players to also train occasionally with the seniors, and thus have individual access to the senior coaching staff.

(ii) Coaching – Seniors

The Coaching Panel of Don Royce – Director; Bryan Thomas – Coach and Mick Wood – Assistant Coach – one of the finest coaching panels in Geelong - is available to your boys on a full time basis when they graduate to senior ranks.

(iii) Practice Facilities

The new training facilities – both hard and turf wickets – are nearing completion. We are hopeful that Tony Devlin, one of our Life Members, with some other club helpers will be able to lay the remaining carpet on the hard wickets during the Christmas break. These facilities are the result of a combined effort of some players and parents. In particular, the contributions of Scott Mullen, Graeme Taylor, David Murray, Ian Simpson, and Tony Devlin need to be acknowledged. A formal opening of these facilities will occur once they are completed and paid for.

(iv) Club Finances

Despite the careful savings plan of our club over the last few years, and the support of the City of Greater Geelong, we are approximately $10,000 short in covering the expected overall cost of the new practice facilities ($160,000 instead of $150,000).

We are therefore making an impassioned plea to the parents of our juniors to contribute to this cause.

These facilities will not only be used by your children this season but for many seasons to come as they graduate through our junior ranks to senior level.

We offer the following ways of making your financial contribution:

- $ 100 Bronze Donation
- $ 250 Silver Donation
- $ 500 Gold Donation
- $ 1000 Platinum Donation

All donations of $100 and over will be acknowledged on a perpetual plaque that will be unveiled at the official opening ceremony, an event you will be invited to attend. Gold and Platinum donors will also be offered special sponsorship packages for the business of their choice. Our club takes seriously the business of supporting sponsors, so this is tangible return to donors.

We offer the following ways of making your financial contribution:

- Via Club Website by clicking here and using the PayPal "Donate" option provided
- Direct by cheque payable to 'Newtown & Chilwell Cricket Club' P.O. 240 Geelong Vic 3220
- Promise/Negotiation with Tony Jefferies, Mark Ainsworth or myself. Our contact details are in the club handbook if you want to email or ring, and of course, always feel free to come and talk to me in person.

I ask you now to support us as we take this giant step towards ensuring we remain not just a successful cricket club, but a place where young people learn sets of values that help set them up for life.

Sincerely,

Neville Crane

Times are a changin'

Alex
OATES

IS it just me, or has everyone changed?

Now, I'm only 26, but since when has sport rated a distant second to everything else that goes on in summer?

Maybe, it's just the demographic of the players in country cricket.

Maybe it's the lure of the beach, parties or girls.

Whatever the reason, it's just not the same.

To take a line from the famous Bob Dylan, The Times Are A Changin'.

In years gone by, particularly where I came from, sport was the be-all and end-all for a lot of us.

Weekends revolved around sport.

For me, it was cricket from 12-5pm and drinks with the boys from 5 'til the wee hours of the morning.

Sunday was recovery day and fitting in everything that couldn't be done on the Saturday.

Yeah, occasionally we had other things on, but missing half a season was unheard of.

How things have changed.

Now, we have a minimum of six players absent every week.

Reasons range from work commitments, weddings, Buck's shows and children's birthdays. Even 'the can't be stuffed' rates a mention occasionally.

Recently, one of our regulars planned his birthday party on a Saturday. Yep, match day.

So him and half the club were split on their loyalties – play cricket and upset the birthday boy, or go to the party and upset your teammates. Either way you're screwed.

One game earlier this season, our thirds forfeited on the Saturday morning because only six players were available.

Since then, the club has battled to put a decent side on the park. Each week it's three in, three out in each grade.

Our see-sawing fortunes have taught me a valuable lesson in life. While I might wear my heart on my sleeve and live and breathe cricket, others don't.

What I've learnt – purely through missing half the season (because of other commitments out of my control, I might add) – is to understand not everyone shares my view.

You can't control those who only think of themselves. You can't control outside happenings such as functions and family gatherings.

What you can control is your attitude.

Ben's big on his role with Blues

WHENEVER Newtown & Chilwell compile a big innings total, usually there's no need to check which player has made the biggest contribution.

Over recent seasons Ben Neville has been the foundation behind the Blues' runscore and the curly-haired batting star has been incredibly consistent, hitting nearly 1000 runs over the past three summers.

Perhaps last Saturday at Winter Reserve he reached his peak making a superb 113 against one of the finest attacks in GCA, East Belmont.

It helped Newtown & Chilwell compile a very competitive 262.

"We have a young side so the responsibility and pressure on me to score runs is just the way it is," Neville said.

"(But) I enjoy the challenge. I have to concentrate on accumulating runs over long periods at the crease. Batting with inexperienced batting partners requires patience."

Apart from a stint with Premier Club, North Melbourne, Neville has played his cricket at Queens Park since juniors.

Possibly one of the few captain-coaches to ever be in charge of preparing the post-match toasted sandwiches, he is pleased that the threat of relegation for the GCA's most successful club has eased.

"I think we are fourth in the club championship at the moment," Neville said.

"So the club is heading in the right direction. We started to put the right people in the right places - including some excellent specialist coaches.

"No one person can do everything."

A scalp like third-placed East Belmont would be another step in rebuilding Newtown & Chilwell's standing.

"Last Saturday, we did not quite bat the 65 overs as we had set out to do," Neville said.

"And they are a strong batting side so they are capable of making 262.

"A young talented side like ours can surprise people, though. What we can do is achieve some consistency in the field and bowl one side of the wicket. If we can give it a good go all day the result will be close."

Neville, who has worked in alternative therapies, currently earns his living walking dogs for their owners in Melbourne's wealthiest suburbs.

"I've got a good lifestyle at the moment. I'm enjoying my cricket and this is the best job I have ever had," he said.

LEADING BY EXAMPLE: Newtown & Chilwell skipper Ben Neville enjoys his responsibility at the club.

NCCC End of Season Trip

Matt Kennedy (with some help of Loatsy), is organising an End of Season trip for NCCC this season.

Matty is going to organise a trip to Hobart in April. Either leaving Thursday 12th (night after work) or Friday 13th April and returning on Sunday 15th April.

We want to book the flights for the trip ASAP so we are looking for numbers to see if you want to go by the end of the January. Flights will cost roughly around $200 return + accommodation (+ a couple of miscellaneous costs TBA).

If you could let Matt or Loatsy know either if you wish to attend by at training on Thursday night, on game day on Saturday or send them an email or a message on Facebook. Some of you have already had a message sent via Facebook already. if you wish to attend.

A $50 deposit (non-refundable) will be required to seal your place (hopefully paid by the end of January). We'll organise a bank account so people can deposit $25 per week or something so its not a big cost come March / April.

Hope to hear that most people can go - it will be great to celebrate the season NCCC style.

The Platypus.....

- 1 Vote – Sammy Eason – joining the starting off as a keeper, taking a catch then bowling and taking wickets club.
- 3 Votes each to Robbo and Percy – Found in bed together at 5:30am Saturday morning in a bed at Knackers' house.
- 3 Votes – Dimma – Not bringing any arvo tea in week 2 of a game – Same as week 1 Dimma.
- 1 Vote – Batesy – Knowing the New Zealand national anthem word for word in year 8.
- 3 Votes – Chippa – Purchasing drinks at the Xmas party, then saying he was too tired to drink them and he wanted to go home.
- 2 Votes – Dimma and Beauy – wearing their double wicket attire to a 21st
- 1 Vote – Tommy Roberts – Finally getting his debut game as a keeper, then breaking his little finger.
- 1 Vote – Dimma – Finally bringing afternoon tea, but bringing Chocolate Royals – and leaving them in the car.
- 1 Vote – Dimma – Bringing tube lollies and snakes for afternoon tea.
- 3 Votes – Russ Mitchell – For a comment made during Don's Cricket Knowledge meeting, The question was about What should the top 6 batsman do when chasing a 250 score. One of the answers was 42. Russ laughed and when asked if it was him that made the response stating "That it was too smart for me!"
- 2 Votes – Mick Wood – Sunburnt on one side of the body watching the ones win at East Belmont
- 1 Vote each to BT and Morgo – for looking like racoons after a day in the sun.
- 3 Votes – "Staples" Anderson – posting a status on Facebook stating we was an angry angry man. Tell us something we didn't know!
- 3 Votes – Sav – Looking like Gary Glitter with glitter all over his face at the Glitter Gang's 20th Anniversary concert.
- 2 Votes – Freak – Crashing the dog mobile.
- 1 Vote – Dimma – Eating KFC for lunch, then eating a pasta at the club for dinner. Taking one bite and saying he was full, continuing to finish the bowl. Then proceeding to eat 6 free pasty desserts 15 mins later.
- 3 Votes – Beauy – For looking like the character Jay from the Inbetweeners.
- 3 Votes – Chippa – Sledging all of the South Barwon players, then shutting right up when B.Hauenstein comes into bat.
- 2 Votes – George Cammo – Makes 200 in the seniors, but can't make over 20 odd in Rockets country week.
- 1 Vote – Morgo – just keeps struggling against Stewie Leigh in the golf.

If you have any anything that is worthy of getting Platypus votes, let the Platypus know on the NCCC page on Facebook.
