Scott Hucker retires

Last Saturday Thomson allrounder Scott Hucker announced his retirement from local cricket after nearly 19 years of competitive Firsts cricket.

It was appropriate that the dual Two Blue premiership player chose his last match to be on Stinton Oval against his previous club.

Huck took over 250 District 1sts wickets at 19 and made nearly 2000 runs at over 20 stamping him as one of the quality players in Geelong cricket over the past 15 or so years. Adding to those runs and wickets were numerous seasons worth with his first club South Barwon which he captained and coached in second division.

Congratulations on a fine career, Huck!

Also playing for Thomson in Scott Hucker's last match was former club captain/coach Gavin Castle and 5ths premiership player Richie Herd.

The roller goes to pieces

Below are pictures of the turf wicket roller being rebuilt by David Murray in early September.

As you can see it was completely stripped and rebuilt from the ground up. Not only was this a monumental effort by Beak but it highlights one of but many activities that go on behind the scenes to provide cricket each Saturday in Summer.

Many thanks to Beak, but all players should be aware that this is the type of necessary activity for which your membership payments are needed.

So – pay your membership on time and support your club.

Bereavement Notice

Jamie Pescott's Father passed away last Thursday.

Ed Pescott had been suffering from Parkinson's disease for many years and finally lost the battle last week. He loved his cricket and last year would make regular trips from hospital to watch Jamie represent the N&CCC 3rds.

Even though Jamie would never expect the N&CCC to wear black arm bands this weekend, we believe it would be particularly appropriate considering the love Jamie and his Father had for the game of cricket.

Baz finally tastes success

Five senior victories including a John Rees led win by the Firsts were the highlight of round 3.

Newtown's batsmen set up their 42 run win over Thomson at Queen's Park. John Rees (74) can take a lot of the credit for holding the inning together from the opening position until the total had reached 158. Rod Kiddle (45), Mick Kelson (32) and Sam Clark (24no) also made a good batting impression. Scott Hucker (56 in his last game) and Adam Petterwood (23) just about kept the game alive after Thomson had slumped to 7/78. Simon Rau's late wickets ensured the Blues would never concede victory after Michael Cox had snared 3/12 on his return from England.

MEANWHILE.....The Seconds and Thirds put together fine allround wins with strong batting backed up by good bowling. Both sides topped 200 for few wickets and bowled over the Tigers for valuable percentage. Half centuries by Russ Mitchell, Ian Hastie and skipper Darren Fleet were highlights for the Seconds while Adam Lavars compiled an excellent 86 not out from 114 balls in the Thirds. Blake Anderson (4/34) and matt Suvoltos (3/19) spun the Thirds to victory.

The Fourth's enjoyed a tighter match on the unmarked pitch at Godfrey Street. Cannot imagine how one can be called for an over stepping no ball when there is no line, but this did not detract from the solid efforts of skipper Steve Lewis (48) and bowlers Ty Casboul (4/10) and Andrew Henderson (3/31).

Warwick Hadfield enjoyed a first up win as captain over Bell Post Hill in the Fifth's. Useful contributions by footballers Mark Blake (4/15), David Johnson (41) and Paul Chapman (26) and debutant Clem Prince (31) saw the side to a first round win.

Fifths BLACK ANT REPORT

By popular demand, or at least by demand from the ever popular Kibbo, The Black Ant is back.

No discussion about why the 5ths have to start two weeks after everyone else... We're eschewing controversy this year!

Though we will happily act as campaign manager when the time comes, nudge nudge, wink wink, know what I mean! But on to more important and immediate things, the game for the Neville Crane Tea Cup, a one-day frolic against BPH at Elderslie. What a sun-kissed day, in stark contrast to the weather Sydney was turning on for the ROW Test Bad light at 11am. The Director of Tourism in NSW must have been having heart seizures as his version of global warming, global chilling, was broadcast to the globe.

A fascinating group turned up to contest the game on behalf of NCCC including the much welcomed Andy from Sticks and Grace. Afternoon teas will have a touch of class this year fellas, even if we're missing Morgo's fiery sangers. The BPH folk kicked a footy around while we put out the witches hats, the stumps and Crainie swept the pitch. On losing the toss, it was time to show them our footballers.

Blakie off the long run with three slips, two gullies. All surplus to requirements when the big yorker came out from eight foot, 13 inches or thereabouts.

At the other end, forget Princess Mary, we've got our own Crown Prince, Clem. Bowled beautifully. Johnno then displayed his incipient alopecia as well as bowling prowess while the equally follically challenged old guile wheeled away from the other end. Snails have been known to move faster than our rivals and at drinks we were happy, especially with Blakie with three overs up his very long sleeve. Of course, the cameos from Turtle and the Happy Chappy, whose grin is a thing of marvel these days, should never be glossed over, both repaying the Captain with early wickets.

And we've already got Blakie thinking like a bowler. "Of course the lbw was out," he said as others argued over it. "Would have knocked every thing over." Including those already knocked down with a feather when the finger went up.

The run chase had a few early hiccups, Cranie trying the sweep again with the bat with less success before Johnno and Chappy swept us forward.

Then Clem decided to take the long-handled Turks Head broom to the cobwebs caused by not having a bat for a summer or two by hitting the first two balls for six. Didn't that change the equation, or the Manhattan as our flat-vowelled friends across the Tasman insist on calling it.

Victory was celebrated in style, Cranie having bought the beers in honour of both the clubs he has served so well. Then it was down to the rooms for the even better news. All five home and Bazza was shouting the beers.

Newtown Chilwell Cricket Club as it should always be!

Although we are sure to meet stronger sides during the season it was a solid start by all players.

Highlight of the day --the coach moved Rex to backward square leg after a Lara bloke played a very solid hook shot for four--3 balls later he tried the same shot and Big Rex hung on to a blinder.

2nd. highlight of the day was the career 1st sixes by Jamie Harrison and George Chisholm --both big tommies.
