DOUBLE WICKET

This year's double wicket was a huge success, with great fun being had by all. The eventual winners were Simon 'Boof' Pearce and Paul Marinelli (Marra winning for the second time) who beat the Cap/Coach Baz Tsitas and Marra's sister, Lisa.

The day started off with the evergreen (sorry, ever red) duo of Specs and Stewie Leigh. Specs was just calling through really on the way to taking some tables out to Lara whilst Stewie was all action as usual, even in his golf shoes didn't quite assist him to the extent normal spikes would have. Young Blake Anderson was keen to stamp his authority on the contest, and was quite appalled to see his partner having an early beverage which wouldn't normally enhance your cricket skills. Blake told his partner that wasn't on in no uncertain terms, that he was here to win it and that the intake of any more of liquid of that variety wouldn't be tolerated. His speech didn't work as the Prez kept enjoying himself all day.

Sam Clark was teamed up with Nathan Clark (no relation) who played against big brother Jason Clark (Nathan's brother, but no relation to Sam). Tim Clark (no relation to Sam, Nathan or Jason) looked on, as did Hayden Clarke (no relation to Sam, Tim, Nathan or Jason). In fact his surname is spelt differently). Not entirely sure what the collective noun for Clark(e)s is but a few spring to mind – idiot, stupid and morn come easily to mind. Anyway, Jase Clark had a great game – smashed all over by Nathan and run out without facing as Sam and Nathan won easily.

After lunch it was ¼ final time as the Prez and Blakey matched up against Specs and Stewie. After batting first Stewie had to go to hospital, apparently, although for what we'll never know. This left Specs without a partner for the bowling leg until young Dean Turley stepped into the breach, raising the average iq of the match considerable whilst lowering the average age. A thrilling draw was fought out when the Prez called for a quick single only to discover that Disco Kibbis, displaying the agility of a cat, could dive full length and return the ball whilst lying on his back to effect the best run out of the day. In the replay the Prez and Blakey got through, mainly due to Specs demanding he bowl before Dean, who got two for not many after old man Specs was smashed all over the park.

The other highlight of the quarters was the massive, and I mean MASSIVE, six hit by the cockroach Baz. The ball smashed into the very top part of the roof of the clubrooms on its way into the upstairs car park at approximately the speed of Andy Duff eating a hamburger. It was big. Big Kev would have renamed himself Massive Kev had he hit this six. Or still been alive. Anyway, that six helped Baz and partner Lisa Marinelli into the semis with a comprehensive win over Hayden Clarke and Hayden junior – Rhys.

The semis saw the Prez take on the Coach in one game, whilst Simon and Marra took on Kelso and Jai Sheehan in the other. As was the case for most of the tournament Boof and Marra won their semi easily, due mainly to bowling first and bowling well. Chasing single figure scores had proved successful up to the semi and it worked a treat for them again in that game.

The other semi was a bit tighter, but no less stupid. Baz's tight bowling and great captaincy from Lisa was always going to be too much for Blakey and The Prez, even if Blakey is a better leggie than Baz. Just ask him.

The final was a tense affair, seeing which Marinelli would take home Charlie tonight. Sorry, the Double Wicket crown. There's probably not too much tension for you reading this (or in Greeny's case having it read to him) as I've already told you who won the thing.

Anyway, Boof and Marra batted first in the final for the first time, finally. Baz bowled first and was treated with a lot of respect – except by Boof who treated him with contempt. Negotiating ten deliveries of wily legspin, the eventual winners needed a good over from Lisa's bowling to post a big score, they did just that. Boof was particularly harsh as he thrashed Lisa all over Queen's Park to record a score of inxs of 40.

When it was time for Lisa and Baz to bat Baz did the sensible thing and got out in the first over, leaving Lisa to score at more than 2 runs a ball. Despite many gallant attempts to hit the ball off the square Lis just couldn't quite get her and Baz over the line, falling 20 odd runs short.

Victory to Boof and Marra, back luck to everyone else, but great fun had by all. It was particularly good to see a number of juniors playing. As always all juniors are encouraged to play, and as usual they performed better than most of the seniors.

FIRSTS

lost to Grovedale
at Burdoo Reserve

RESULT – lost by 4 runs in rain effected match

Grovedale were another side to turn around recent misfortune at Burdoo Reserve in a match affected more than most by Saturday's afternoon's rainstorm. Newtown & Chilwell found their batting momentum and plans came to little as their innings was terminated after 32 overs at 3-106. Despite Adam Wiseman's three-wicket haul the home side reached their target in just their 21st over, Garry Kelson's class being immediately evident on his return to the Tiger fold. The left-handed opener showed the home supporters what they had been missing with an authoritative 66 not out.

FIFTHS

lost to Grovedale at Reserve Road

RESULT – lost by 7 runs

Fifths Black Ant Report

"Who's your ring-in this week," old Hoves half smiled? "Where's Stephen Wells." Well talk about calling the kettle black Hoves.

The first five Grovedale batters were ready to get acquainted with the bloke at square leg as Cam Russell, wind at his back, bustled in from the pavilion end, such as it is at Reserve Road. Chasing a modest 120-odd, the back-stepping Lawnmowers had been cut down to 5-31 when the rain interrupted. After the break and the compulsory referrals to the abacus ... amazing how the captains can work it out better than some umpies, eh Bazza? ... they needed about 90 in an hour and a bit.

Enter some unlikely looking kid with hair sticking out of his batting helmet at all angles to belt the ball to all angles and his side home. Fours, sixers, the whole shooting match, and not a chance among 'em. It was an astonishing performance. Nicely rung in, Hoves!

In retrospect, we should have scored more ourselves, especially after Kibbo and Specs got us of to a solid start. But old Hoves was still hanging on to miracle catches, one at slip, the other at long on that had four written all over it before his gnarled old hand made the interception. Mind you we managed to shade him in the catching department, Cranie holding a screamer in the gully and then OG doing much the same in third slip ... yep third slip and more in the 5ths, that's how quick they were coming downwind.

Until the final onslaught Cam and James Radcliffe had bowled beautifully, Radders refusing to be beaten by the breeze as he hurtled in. With a wry smile he accepts that with his big shouldered mate at the other end, and of course being left-handed, he has a lifetime ahead of him pushing into the wind.

We go to the Christmas break with four wins and three losses. We're probably pushing it uphill and into the wind, but the four still beckons.

SIXTHS

lost to St Josephs at Noble Street Oval

RESULT – lost by 8 runs

Sixths Black Ant Report

Wild and windy conditions at St Josephs on Noble Street greeted us for the last game before the new year break. All three Sandersons were inclusions, father Les, Tim (16) and debutant 13 year old Scott. Along with Ben Hunt and Tim Simson for their second game each.

The Catholics won the toss and began batting like they were in a hurry to go to a Christmas party. Andrew Bishop was taken to early and Les was keeping the run rate down. Tim Simpson was bought on for his first bowl in the seniors and had immediate impact, bowling fine line and length in the difficult conditions. Scott Sanderson replaced his dad at the other end and matched his father in claiming a wicket. Cambell Bishop, Josh Grabowski and Jarrod Andrews all held terrific out field catches to have them 7 down with about 15 overs left. Although the Joeys tail wagged a little the target of 206 seemed achievable on the small and fast arena. Tim Simpson was the standout bowler claiming 4 for 20 in an inspired spell.

We set about our target only to lose steady wickets, Josh Grabowski (36) was in control but ran himself out and fellow under 15 Cambell Bishop (42) continued to play above his years. Turtle (24) also ran himself out, and when Andy Bishop's hamstring snapped with an over to go we were all but finished.

Eight runs short in our 2nd close loss in a row. Even though we couldn't manage a victory for the Sanderson's the memory of their first game together will remain special, the club may yet be victorious if we can persist with the concept that has proved so popular. We still sit third on the ladder with 6 wins 3 loss & eight games to come, not such a bad start to the season using 29 players to date.

Plenty of positives with continual brilliant performances from boys still playing under 15. Campbell Bishop, Josh Grabowski, Jarrod Andrews Tim Simpson, Sam Connelly, and Jack Clonan all acquitting themselves comfortably on a regular basis.

Merry Christmas & a happy and safe new year to all at N&CCC.

Another win, albeit a bit of a scrappy one, sees the boys head off to the Christmas break with 6 wins on the trot and in top place on the ladder. Our bowling and fielding was a bit ragged, with a few short ones getting the treatment, only a few late wickets making the scoreboard look reasonable. After a bit of a rev from the coaching team, we set about the target with better purpose. Batting with a modified order, our first four or five polished off the chase fairly comfortably, giving the lower order the chance to hit out for some easy late innings runs. A quick look at the team stats over the weekend shows the depth of the team, with all players having enjoyed fine seasons to date. Two games to come after Christmas - and hopefully the final to look forward to if we continue to play to form!

N&CCC Dawber defeated Teesdale

Another comprehensive victory to finish our pre Christmas games. Being undefeated after 6 rounds puts in a good position to hopefully gain a spot in the final next year.

Today's victory certainly wasn't our best-we continue to waste opportunities when bowling and today it was evident when we at times bowled the wrong lines and on top of that dropped at least 5 catches.

Still we continue to get over the line. Improved batting by some of the middle order has certainly given us a bit of extra grunt and taken the pressure away from the top order.
