TWO BLUE TRIBUNE

The official organ of the Newtown and Chilwell Cricket Club Inc.

October 3, 2007 Vol.35 No.1 www.newtownchilwellcc.com.au

As the Preen is applied to the stained creams of first XI players, there are plenty of reminders that at this great game of ours, you need the rub of the green to go your way sometimes.

And having to bowl with a wet ball is not part of that. How amazingly ironic that as climate change creates a drought of Biblical proportions, we find ourselves beset by all manner of wet weather carnage.

Out at Lara, the Thirds and the Firsts were dodging downpours, while at Shaw, well there's a revealing story. To the gobsmackedness of all us, we have discovered yet more people who don't want to play cricket. If they were ballerinas or opera singers, you might understand it. But they're not! They profess to be cricketers, but they just don't want to play cricket. What's going on?

Happily, the Fours got on, thanks to some marvellous diplomacy by Condoleeza Tuskes. A gig at the United Nations can't be far away, Frankie!

The Fours went on to win a truncated match handsomely, Terry "I haven't put away the creams entirely yet coach" Hickey getting a few wickets and Nick Sutcliffe belting the ball to all parts.

It was at the Thirds though where the story of the day emerged. A tight game right to the end thanks to a fine all round contribution by Jai "Get the creams ready" Sheahan.

For those not aware (check your pulse if you haven't heard this already), three runs were needed off the last ball after debutant Nick Boyanton sacrificed his wicket in the brave pursuit of the winning runs.

Enter Grant Whiteside. The Lara captain set the field to defy all Scoring permutations, well bar one, the French Cut, or as Grant insisted, the technically correct and exquisitely classical shot known to W.G. Grace as the Draw Shot and one which the old master played on purpose.

Grant didn't really play it on purpose, well not yet, but in time it will be, however he did play it to great affect, completing the third and punching the air in triumph, as you do.

Unfortunately, Dev Yul Brynner Royce, who was the central umpire also joined in the celebrations, pumping the air, to such affect that the scorers thought he was signalling byes.

G. Whiteside 0 not out. So the rights to the book and the movie and the memorabilia for "How Stinker Whiteside Saved the Day!" not quite as valuable as first thought.

The Firsts didn't quite get there, those overs with the wet ball, plus some undisciplined batting, proving the difference. Plenty of positives though. Richo batting with great maturity, Noodle with the figures, the President bowling with the fire of a couple of seasons ago when he helped propel the Twos to a premiership.

Jaik Mickleburgh got a wicket with his first ball in Australia, but the debt was repaid when he was out first ball. In a short time though he has emerged as a very impressive young man, pitching in at the working bee on Sunday despite the lag caused by the jet, and also the Barking Dog/N&CCC rooms. Who else got a text message at 12.30am when England beat Australia in the rugby union world cup?

Cory had a fine debut behind the stumps, his first catch a pearler. Welcome to Newtown son!

The Second XI was highly competitive on Sunday and but for a decision which was nothing short of horrendous, would have got home. The rub of the Green going against us again, and poor old Battler, born-again after his cross-training, as distinct from cross-dressing, was robbed of a thoroughly deserved ton. Knackers tried valiantly to get the side home, as did Cam Russell.

The skipper showed there are plenty of runs to be had still, as did Gags. And Sammie Eason, welcome to Newtown son, three wickets.

Two wins, two losses, the glass more than half full. The longest journey starts with the first step. It's started!

Morning all,

How quickly it goes from GO CATS to GO TOWNERS, the first game of the season this weekend.

We had our monthly meeting last night and I've got to say, making allowances for the drought and a few other issues, we're in pretty good shape.

Some important housekeeping things. By popular requests the Club Pots are back at a cost of $120 this year and will earn the owner a 50 cent discount on ALL beverages.

TONIGHT, October 4, is membership night. Sav will be on the prowl with the EFTPOS machine. Pay early because he has some giveaways... and due to the refurb and tanks, we need the money.

Remember, if you're not financial by December 1, you're not covered by GCA insurance, so you can't play. Last year just about everyone was terrific with their payments. Let's keep up that standard.

Last night, Brett and Warwick drove up to Melbourne in the wee small hours to meet the Pom, Jaik Mickleburgh. Apparently Customs were a bit reluctant to let him in but he managed to talk his way through!

Come down tonight to meet Jaik and find out about his already substantial career in English cricket.

We have the best beer in Geelong and top quality food from the Elephant and Castle. So let your friends and neighbours know about our new caterers and encourage them to give the cook a night off on Thursday and Saturday and come to the club, the more the merrier.

Another couple of important functions are on this Sunday - junior registration day and also a working bee ... Yes another one and we want to see another terrific roll up just like last time. We have to empty the container, get rid of a lot of rubbish and put in the water tanks for the practice wickets. All these things don't just occur miraculously ... We need your assistance to make them happen.

As has been said before, a prime motive of our club is to provide all our cricketers, from Milo Have A Go to Seniors, with the best possible facilities we can. You can help us achieve that by being there on Sunday, and also to support Mark Turnley and his hard-working junior support team.

We do have the biggest junior program in the GCA, which is something to be very proud of. But it's only achieved through a lot of hard work, so any support we can give to Mark will be greatly appreciated.

We decided on another initiative last night to further encourage everyone to use our sponsors.

Produce a receipt for $50 or more worth of goods purchased from a club sponsor and you receive a free beverage from the bar at QP. Make sure you ask for a receipt when next you buy petrol from Chisa, have a meal at the Elephant and Castle, or are dealing with any of our other much valued sponsors. We want to make it very clear that sponsoring our club is a two way street, that we are as prepared to support our sponsors as they are to support us.

There are plenty of other things happening around the club, especially with the drought still impacting heavily.

The Second XI will be playing on Sunday at Lara. 3rds and 4ths are playing 40 over games this weekend. Those and other playing details will be confirmed tonight.

At this stage, I really want to thank and congratulate our coach Brett Bentley and his support team for the great pre-season they have given us.

There's a long way to go, and it will be tough for any number of reasons, but Brett has really thrown himself into the role, making himself a genuine club coach by working on players across the grades.

Finally, to everyone who is playing this weekend, all the best. Our club has a wonderful tradition and great past achievements, which we are always quick to honour. We also have a tremendous future and it starts this Saturday.

GO TWO BLUES!

TRANSPORT FINANCE CRICKET COACHING CLINIC

This weekend, Mark Atkinson, the former Australia A and Tasmanian wicketkeeper, is back with us for one of his Elite Coaching Clinics.

Those who took part in the clinics last year know what a great boost they were.

Mark is regarded as one of the best coaches in Australia, running clinics like this professionally in Sydney, and also coaching at the grade level. His experience as a player alongside the likes of Ricky Ponting, David Boon, Allan Border and so on is also priceless.

NCCC is the only club in the GCA to provide opportunities like this to its players, both seniors and juniors.

Take advantage of it. Or as Wayne Bennett quoting Oliver Wendell Holmes says it: "Don't die with the music inside you!"

Success in sport and in life is all about taking opportunities when they present themselves.

Here is a chance to really test yourself as a cricketer, to find out how to get to the next levels.

Mark and his staff provide an insight into the game that we can only marvel at.

Mark will be here for the whole weekend, so there has got to be a time that is convenient to you, no matter what day you're playing this weekend.

SIGHT SCREENS

As part of our commitment to providing the best possible facilities to our players, we have ordered sightscreens for Stinton Oval.

NCCC is indebted to Artie Fleet for really pitching in on this one. Artie has come up with a design for the screens which will make them vandal and weather proof. There aren't many clubs in the GCA with sightscreens – once again NCCC is proving itself a standard setter.

MEALS

On Thursday and Saturday night, we have meals provided by one of our club's valuable sponsors, The Elephant and Castle.

This is a great addition to what our club offers members and their guests.

Give the cook the night off on Thursday and Saturday, come down to the rooms for a meal. And tell your friends, too, to come along.

And just quietly, according to the experts on this subject, and doesn't NCCC have a few of them, our beer from the new pipes is the best in Geelong.

Come and enjoy it all and in the excellent company of NCCC members and their guests.

CHILDREN'S ROOM

Our designated children's room is up and running. Thanks to all those who have donated toys and other facilities. This is a place where youngsters can really feel part of our club. It also allows parents to relax in the knowledge their children are safe while they are at the club. It has been just fantastic to see the families turning up on Thursday and Saturday, let's keep it going.

WORKING BEES

The club has had two working bees recently, the turn outs for which have been fantastic. Last Sunday, we cleaned out the container, got rid of a stack of rubbish and then laid the platform and put in place the water tanks for the practice wickets. Jaik Mickleburgh has agreed to act as curator for the practice wickets and is promising a deck they'd be happy to have at Lord's or Chelmsford. And he's got a few tricks to encourage the bowlers to bowl the right lines that he has learned from his valuable experience at the Essex Cricket Academy. So it won't be all the batters' way!

FIRSTS

lost to Lara at Lara

RESULT – lost by 35 runs

Umpire – D Harding

The first round of the 2007-2008 went the way of the grand finals of last season, damp fizzers.

Persistent rain during Friday and the heavy showers early on Saturday afternoon meant play was virtually impossible.

Lara's Mill Rd Oval must have been far away enough from the rain belt to get play in with Lara scoring a solid 35-run win.

Lara started well with the first wicket falling at 40 but a mini collapse saw the score reach 3-47.

Wickets continued to fall and at 6-66, the outlook was not good. Newtown & Chilwell would have been cock-a-hoop at getting rid of last year's leading run scorer and new captain and professional Chris Bambury for just three and two respectively.

Bambury has an impressive pedigree as a country cricketer.

Lara was in real trouble at 8-112 but a 43-run eighth wicket partnership between McCann and Pehar took them to 155.

Newtown & Chilwell was in a similar position at 4-43 but a responsible 45 from Richardson took them to 4-83 and an outside chance of victory.

Once Richardson went, Lara was able to mop up and grab handy points, given the the washouts from the other matches.

The Players' Spirit of Australian Cricket

As cricketers who represent Australia we acknowledge and embrace "The Spirit of Cricket" and the laws of our game.

This Players' Spirit of Australian Cricket serves as a guide to the shared standards of behaviour that we expect of ourselves and of the values we hold.

Our on-field behaviour

We play our cricket hard but fair and accept all umpiring decisions as a mark of respect for our opponents, the umpires, ourselves and the game.

We view positive play, pressure, body language and banter between opponents and ourselves as legitimate tactics and integral parts of the competitive nature of cricket.

We do not condone or engage in sledging or any other conduct that constitutes personal abuse.

We encourage the display of passion and emotion as a sign of our enjoyment and pride in the game, as a celebration of our achievements and as a sign of respect for our opponents.

Our off-field behaviour

It is acknowledged that we have a private life to lead but understand our off-field conduct has the potential to reflect either positively or adversely on us as individuals and also on the game of cricket.

We consider off field conduct that may be likely to warrant legitimate public criticism to be unacceptable conduct.

Our team

We take pride in our sense of the importance of the team and acknowledge the role of the team captain and our direct support staff. We demonstrate this by displaying loyalty and compassion to each other, by accepting our role as mentors and by supporting each other to abide by these values.

We value honesty and accept that every member of the team has a role to play in shaping, and abiding by our shared standards and expectations.

We strive to be regarded as the best team in the world. We measure this by our on field achievements and by exploring ways in which we might continue to "raise the bar" in respect of our own professionalism.

We acknowledge and follow the traditions of our game while encouraging and accepting experimentation that will enable us to create our own traditions and history. We do this in the expectation that we will leave the game in a better shape than it was before we arrived.

Our opponents

We acknowledge and respect that our opponents may hold different cultural values and beliefs from our own, and value the diversity and richness this adds to the game.

By treating our opponents with dignity and forging bonds of mutual respect, we will overcome any cultural barriers.

Our supporters

We value our supporters and acknowledge those who support our opponents and the game of cricket. We demonstrate commitment to our supporters by always giving our best and demonstrating leadership in everything we do.

Our family

We value the contribution and sacrifices of our families that enable us to meet the se expectations.

Respect

We respect the governing bodies of the game, our support teams in every capacity and our players' association. We demonstrate this respect by seeking and offering frank and open communication in accordance with the Players' Spirit of Australian Cricket.

SECOND N&CCC ELITE COACHING CLINIC SET FOR THIS WEEKEND

Newtown and Chilwell Cricket Club continues to be a leader in providing top-class coaching resources for both its junior and senior players.

This weekend, thanks to the generosity of sponsor Transport Finance, the club will again host leading coach Mark Atkinson and his Elite Cricket Coaching team.

“Everyone who attended last year’s clinic got something out of it,” NCCC president Scott Mullen said.

“Actions were filmed and reviewed, and reviewed by people who really have a great knowledge of cricket.

“I know a lot of our batsmen also got a lot out of Mark’s tips in that area as well, some of them going on to have the best seasons of their careers.

“Because of his background as a player with Tasmania and Australia A, and now as one of Sydney’s leading coaches, Mark really is able to provide a profound insight into the game not readily available in club cricket in the GCA.

I am very grateful to Transport Finance for allowing us to provide this opportunity to our players, both at the senior level, and also the juniors.

“Our junior program is the biggest in Geelong and opportunities like this continue to make it attractive to young cricketers to get and stay involved in the game.

“One of our club’s central aims is to provide the best possible facilities and resources for our players. As well as the clinic, we have a couple of other exciting initiatives coming along in season 2007/2008 which will again put us at the forefront of clubs in the GCA.”
