Captain's Awards

First XI – Cory MATHIESON

Although Cory may not have had the season he would have liked with the bat he was a major contributor to our side in every game this season. Cory did a sensational job behind the stumps being almost faultless on some difficult wickets and also took a few brilliant stumping's in crucial games.

Cory was our main leader in terms of voice and enthusiasm on the field with not a ball going by without something positive being said by him. It wouldn't matter if it was the first or last over of the day it was a certainty Cory would be running to his position in-between overs hurrying everyone along.

Living in Melbourne Cory has made the effort to be able to train on a Thursday night and obviously play on a Saturday which is a huge commitment given travel time and shows his real loyalty and passion for the club. This was again shown by making himself available for helping out in the canteen during the finals series and again coming down to help out for the afternoon.

Cory is a popular and well respected member of this cricket club and it's been fantastic playing with him this year and I hope there are many more seasons to come with him involved in the cricket club.

Second XI – Scott MULLEN

This year's award goes to one of the hardest working members the club has had over the last ten years Scott Mullen. He has been so much help to me this year with putting on the covers on Friday nights and organising any pre match day activities if I am running late.

He is also willing to do any task I ask of him during match days. His work at square leg in tight situations is fantastic. Just ask "Dimma".

His bowling this year has been nothing short of superb and he is always giving his all no matter what the conditions. I do not know why we call him "Heart" but there is not a more apt description of what he gives the team week in and week out.

His commitment to getting his ageing body right every week by constantly visiting the physiotherapist speaks so highly of his desire to play at his highest level. Who knows how many seasons the old warhorse has left but it truly has been an honour to be able to play alongside someone who loves his cricket and club as much as I do for so many seasons. Well done Scotty on a fantastic year.

Third XI – Nick HARRISON

The NCCC 3rd XI had 38 players represented throughout the season and therefore we had quite a number of players to consider when deciding on who represented the team each week. This season no one was asked to play a role more defined and challenging than Nick Harrison. For many years on hard wicket I have failed to see teams bat consistently through to 75 overs. We had to identify a player that had a good defensive technique and could bat for as long as possible to ideally see off the opening bowlers. We asked Nick to open the batting in Round 4 and he took to it with aplomb. It was clear that he could play the role that the team needed.

By the end of the year Nick was opening the batting and bowling. No doubt he is his harshest critic and this probably brings out the best in him. His top score was 46 and he was one of our best maiden bowlers for the season capturing 24 maidens from 115 overs with 2/19 being his best bowling figures.

Nick is on the NCCC committee, on match days and at training he will be one of the first to arrive and one of the last to leave. No doubt Nick will work hard on all aspects of his game and I very much look forward to watching his development into becoming a genuine all-rounder of the club.

I am proud of what Nick has achieved this season, and as a club we are privileged to have the likes of Nick Harrison at the Newtown and Chilwell Cricket Club. Integrity is the core to what each individual strives to attain not only out on the cricket field but also in our daily lives, Nick has this in bucket loads.

Well done Nick, ENJOY what you have achieved in season 2012/13 because you deserve it.

Fourth XI – Zac STOKES

Zac plays with the passion and intensity that every captain loves but after a mid season illness and subsequent challenge to get his form back, Zac showed his true strength of character by working hard, both on and off the field, to return to his aggressive best.

He continues to give 100% every time he steps on the field for the NCCC and I know that once he gets the ball in hand that he will make every effort for the team.

Great work Stoker.

Fifth XI – Jacob SIMONSEN

Throughout the year, Jake has displayed so many qualities that are desirous to the genetics of where the NCCC is heading. He was a massive support with both his ability & cricketing nous and given that we play one day games was always looking for a way to best serve the side on any given day.

This resulted in several bowling spells into the breeze and in most cases when the best player of a team was getting away from us so whilst both his bowling figures may not look attractive and field settings not preferable, he just always contributed 100%+ in all cases.

He has also continued to improve his batting and he will make many runs from NCC in the years to come.

He has always been willing to offer advice to several of our younger players that have been in the fifths and this along with competitive nature provide the qualities of what will be the future strengths of our club going forwards.

Congratulations Jake on what has been a significant contribution towards both the NCCC and the fifths & I sincerely thank you your unwavering support & assistance to the side.

Sixth XI Cambridge – Adam WOOLLETT

"Mule's contribution to the 6th side was invaluable, every time he played the game, he gave his all. As example of this was against Murgheboluc, where the chase the ball to the boundary as fast as he could \, picked up the ball & then ran the batsman out. A lesson for all of our young players to learn from...!!

"Mule" has been playing at the NCCC for over 30 years now, and whether he is playing the game, umpiring, or scoring you know you can rely on him to give 100%.

Every captain needs someone in the team like a MULE, and we thank him and hope to be playing cricket with him for many years to come...!!

Well done "Mule"

Sixth XI Navy – Ian SIMPSON

Amid all the Saturday uncertainties associated with captaining a Sevenths side, most notably the often desperate calls to find the least one, or two, players to complete the team, there was always one silvery certainty. He had the book and the scoreboard "and I've got a spare ball if you need it".

When you got to the ground for a home game he had invariably opened the gate, put in the stumps and was laying out the witches hats before anyone else had arrived. In addition to that you could bowl him at any end and at any time, and bat him anywhere, and he never complained. A couple of times, he got a hammering and threatened to give it all away, but in his last game of the season, he scored 50 and dismissed two gun bats to help set up a victory that is already part of N&CCC folklore. If he continues that form in Over 60's, this kid will play for Australia. Warwick and James Hadfield have pleasure in announcing their captain's award goes to "Simmo" – Ian Simpson.
