North retains Pearce-Hynes trophy despite Sam Mitchell 's heroics

A brave innings from Sam Mitchell, wasn't enough for the Two Blues to regain the prestigious Pearce-Hynes trophy from North Geelong. In other news The Second XI's unbeaten start to the season continued.

THE CHARLIE PEARCE-DENIS HYNES SHIELD

Sam Mitchell batted on one leg for much of his 59, his second successive half-century, after his knee buckled, forcing him to retire hurt.

Sam Mitchell's knee gives way.

Upon obtaining expert medical treatment, he returned with a runner.

Despite that innings, and a late effort from Noah Guida in pursuit of 227, North, which had its own late order contributors, won by 45 runs.

North's innings had been well-restricted until the late surge, the skipper bowling with his usual precision and purpose, taking 2-22 from his 10 overs, while Lachie Norton took his first First XI wicket.

The Second XI captain, Jordan Tegelhuter, with his team on the back foot, went to the old tried and tested take the pace off the ball, and it worked a treat, Jack Royce taking 3-42 with his "straight breaks".

"They were well on top and we were on the back foot at drinks," said Jordan Tegelhuter.

"Then Jackie Royce came on and stole the show with his right arm straight breaks.

"We just thought it would be a good idea to try a change of pace, their spinners had bowled well, and the pitch was giving nothing.

"Simmo (curator Ian Simpson) had prepared a road!"

The skipper was also full of praise for his Western District kinsman Bailey Young – they come the same club, Rup-Minyip.

"Bailey did a really good job at the end of their innings with his medium-pacers," Jordan said.

The Two Blues innings was built on the solid foundation of Darren Fleet's half-century.

"The old fella hasn't lost it" his skipper said warmly.

"He also said it was a thrill to play on turf with Archie, and it was a win he will always remember.

"Tom Kiddle also batted well in partnership with Fleetie, and Doug Bergamin steadied us in the middle and Jack Royce played a really good innings for us, too."

The Third XI were beaten by North Geelong by four wickets, while the Fourth XI was unable to chase down North's 8-251 despite solid knocks from Mark Ainsworth and an almost run a ball 41 from Jack Hastie.

The Fifth XI flew the flag fiercely however, rattling up 7-241 with major contributions from Adam "When He Goes He Goes" Patching – five fours, four sixes – Max Inderberg and Anthony Lean, who whacked five sixers.

"It was his highest score for the club, and he was like a little kid," said Fifth XI captain Matt Sulvolto.

"He hit one six over the road on the full at Windsor Park at North Geelong.

North retains Pearce-Hynes trophy despite Sam Mitchell 's heroics

"Patch's inning was pure Patch.

"He had a new bat but he was nervous about using it, because every other time he used a new bat, he hit the first ball for six.

"So he took out his old bat and hit the first ball for six anyway!"

Playing in a howling wind, plenty of others showed the necessary grit.

"Max Inderberg batted very patiently, we batted around him, and he kept well and deserved the stumping he got," Matt said.

"It wasn't easy keeping in the wind.

"I gave Grant Meaney the worst job of bowling into the wind and he was fantastic with his two wickets.

"Henry Meaney fielded the house down and took a great catch, the only one of the day.

"It was hard catching in that wind.

"Zaiden Ainsworth bowled really well, the best I have seen him bowl, and he did a great job batting with Anthony at the finish, their running between the wickets getting us another 20 or so runs."

The skipper also pitched in with a wicket as he approaches a considerable double club milestone, 5000 runs and 300 wickets, but not as Captain Araldite.

He had to be talked into bowling, but sometime this summer, those well flighted – you wouldn't expect anything else from a pilot – leg-spinners might just get the next six wickets, coupled with the hundred or so runs that takes him to a rare altitude.

A Sister Act and a Lauren Marino half-century set up First XI, while Seconds get home in a tight one

Six wickets between them to the new recruits the Bihar sisters, Harman and Mehar, and an unbeaten half-century to another newcomer fast becoming an important player for the club, Lauren Marino, powered the BWCC Two Blues First XI to victory over Bannockburn.

In contrast to the previous week, conditions were perfect on “the best cricket ground in Geelong”, a.k.a. KFC Oval, when the NCCC bowled first.

Playing only her second game of cricket, Mehar Bihar, 14, became the first Two Blue women’s player to take a four-for and seemed surprised at all the fuss as coach Phil Twaddle informed her of this precious stat.

Harman & Mehar Bihar

Needless to say, Twads was smiling like a Cheshire cat as he did so: found another one, well two, in fact.

Big sister Harman also chipped with two wickets as Bannockburn reached 7-84.

“Harman and Mehar saw the sign on the top of Queens Park, they came down for a practice, were registered and here we are, two wonderful young cricketers,” Phil said.

“I said to Michelle Gavin after that first practice, I think we’ve got a couple of new players for the C Grade side. “How quickly they have they proved me right.”

Harman Bihar played cricket at Point Cook before joining Newtown.

“My sister has not played before, but we are both enjoying playing here,” she said.

“It is a very good club.”

The whisper is more Bihar’s might be turning out for the club soon.

After break, it became the Lauren Marino show, a display of strong hitting and clever dabs for quick singles taking her to 51 from 64 balls, with 10 fours, the Two Blues passing Bannockburn for the loss of just two wickets.

Lauren’s knock followed on her unbeaten 43 for the previous week. You’ve guessed it already – Twads grin was grinning again.

“As for Lauren, the scoreboard says it all, she is a very classy player,” he said.

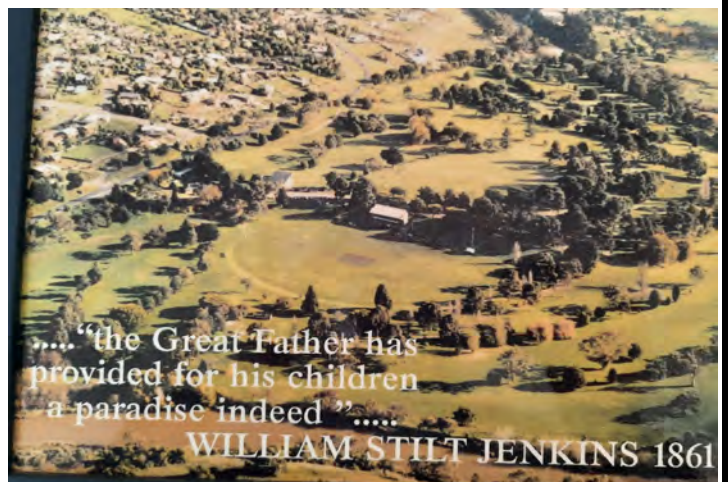

Twads was also full of praise for NCCC curator Ian Simpson.

“He was terrific, down here early in the morning to make sure we had everything good to go,” he said.

On Shaw Oval, the Second XI won in the second last over, seven down and chasing 107.

As wickets fell, Carly White and Steph Wynd entered to save the day with a 61-run partnership.

And what a day it was to save, and savour – two teams playing at Queens Park under a blue and white sky to reminded of William Stitt Jenkins immortal words when in 1861, the area along the Barwon was made into a recreational ground: “The Great Father has provided for his children a paradise indeed.”

Especially when you win!

Two Blue scoreboard 2023/24 round 4

FIRST XI lost to North Geelong on Keith Barclay Oval

Umpires: Greg Illingworth & Steve Keating Scorer: Mark Turnley

A critical 102-run eighth wicket stand between all-rounders Mitchell Troy (47) and Alistair McCann (44) was the key to North Geelong posting a winning score against Newtown and Chilwell at Keith Barclay Oval.

Sam Mitchell made 59 for Newtown & Chilwell. Picture: Wes Cusworth.

Impact opener Sam Hall launched the innings with an enterprising 33, although some tidy work by Dylan Hodge (2-22) and Joshua Norman (1-26) contributed to restricting the Magpies to an attainable 9-227 on an uncharacteristically fast Osborne Park.

Sam Mitchell began the Two Blues' innings brightly before retiring after crashing to the crease with a knee injury.

The enterprising opener courageously returned with a runner to strike a game-high 59 from 95 balls, however too few supporters meant the visitors innings fell 45 runs short.

McCann and Andrew Fergusson claimed 2-25 and 2-28 respectively, although towering paceman Tom Webster was the pick of the bowlers with 3-33.
